Why switch to Core?
Hosting @Core is simple, easy and there's no red-tape.
Just ask our clients. Core delivers Oracle Applications, configured the way you want them, at a higher performance level, with more efficiency, and we can lower your ongoing costs to support Oracle by up to 50%. Core is one of the largest independently owned hosting companies in the world that specializes exclusively in Oracle Applications. Because of our proven expertise, we make sure your applications are there when you need them.

Why Should I Host?
Application Service Providers (ASPs) and Outsourcing Market
By hosting enterprise services, ASPs like Core enable smaller business to benefit from enterprise class software packages and systems. While larger companies tend to use ASPs for outsourcing large portions of their IT infrastructure, smaller businesses with lower budgets typically leverage ASPs to gain access to high-end enterprise computing that would be too expensive to run in-house.

Guaranteed reliability and availability
An application service provider (ASP) like Core can deliver faster implementations than what could be achieved in-house. Because qualified human resources are in high demand, and the market is not providing enough skilled and talented IT workers, Core can minimize the total cost of ownership (TCO). The ASP model—on average—translates into a 30-50% annual savings.So, no matter the size of the company, using an ASP allows a business to focus its resources on its core competencies and primary business rather than on its information systems and information technology.
